NORTHWEST FLORIDA BEACHES INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT INTRODUCES NEW “FLYBRARY” FOR TRAVELERS

Take a book, leave a book, and enjoy reading while traveling.

PANAMA CITY BEACH, Fla. (June 24, 2026) – Northwest Florida Beaches International Airport (ECP) is partnering with the Northwest Regional Library System to give travelers a new way to enjoy their journey with the launch of the ECP FlyBrary, a free, community-driven library located inside of the Terminal.

Designed to make travel even more enjoyable and engaging, the FlyBrary invites passengers to “Take a Book. Leave a Book. Enjoy the Journey.” Travelers can pick up a book for their flight, leave one behind for others, or simply relax and read while waiting at the gate.

“We are always looking for ways to enhance the passenger experience at ECP,” said Parker W. McClellan, Executive Director of ECP. “The FlyBrary is intended to promote literacy, reduce flight anxiety, and help create a positive and unique travel experience for travelers.

The FlyBrary operates on an easy, honor-based system:

- Guests can choose a book to take along on their travels
- Share a book for another passenger to discover
- Or enjoy reading in the terminal and return the book when finished

“We are thrilled to partner with ECP to share the joy of reading with travelers from across the world,” said Robin Shader, Library Director, Northwest Regional Library System. “We hope travelers of all ages will find their new favorite book and engage with the FlyBrary to help others take part in the excitement of reading.”

In addition to physical books, travelers with a Northwest Regional Library System card can access thousands of e-books, audiobooks, and magazines through the Libby app.
